THEY FIGHT EXTENSION. CITIZENS OBJECT TO THEIR PROPERTY BEING CONDEMNED.

The proposed extension of Tripoli street from Washington street to Bute street has developed into a fight in the courts. The property owners through whose property the proposed extension would run are arraigned on one side and the city on the other.

The proper notification of condemnation proceedings having been given these property holders, City Attorney Taylor appeared before Judge Hancock, of the Corporation Court, yesterday morning and applied for the appointment of two sets of commissioners, one for condemning the necessary property for the Tripoli street extension, and the other for the condemnation of property for the widening of Washington street, from Tripoli to Granby street.

Messrs. W. W. Old and Garnett & Garnett appeared as counsel for the citizens who own the property which it is proposed to condemn for opening Tripoli street. The argument lasted for three hours and Judge Hancock reserved his decision on the points at issue.

THE COUNCIL'S ACTION.

Counsel for the property owners made the charge that the City Council had authorized the opening of the street at the instigation of a railroad company, the new Sewell's Point electric line. They contended that it was not for the benefit of the general public that the street was to be opened. Clerk of Common Council Stead had been summoned in the case and he refused to answer a question as to the beginning of the proceedings in Council. Judge Hancock did not force Clerk Stead to answer, as Mr. Stead stated that he considered he had no right to give out the information.

The attorneys for the property holders also raised the point that Council had not made further attempts at negotiations after determining not to pay the prices asked by the owners of the property. The law was quoted as to when condemnation proceedings shall be begun.

Judge Hancock's decision in the matter will probably be rendered to-day.

NOTED ELECTRICIANS

Of America, Including Thomas A. Edison, in Norfolk.

On Their Way to Attend the Eighteenth Annual Convention of Association of Railway Telegraph Superintendents at Wilmington, N. C. May 15th. to 19th.

The greatest assemblage of electrical experts that Norfolk has even seen reached the city yesterday evening via the Cape Charles route, and remained last night at the Monticello. Among them was Edison, the famous wizard of Menlo Park.

The list of these gentlemen, some of whom were accompanied by their wives and daughters, is as follows: Thomas A. Edison, W. E. Gilmore, Orange, N. J.; J. J. Ghegan, E. McLoughlin, W. J. Holmes and wife, William Marshall, W. Young, A. P. Eckert, W. S. Eckert, J. B. Taltavall, publisher of "The Telegraph Age"; Wm. Mayer, Jr., and wife; L. B. Foley and wife, of New York; W. W. Ryder, of Chicago, president of the association, and wife; C. E. Freeman, professor at Armour Institute, Chicago; H. Bristol, wife, son, and daughter; George M. Dugan, W. H. Holton, wife and daughter; C. F. Annett and wife, all of Chicago; C. W. Hammond, wife and daughter, St. Louis; P. W. Drew and wife, Milwaukee; I. N. Miller, wife and daughter, Cincinnati; J. S. Logue, wife and son, New York; Eugene W. Vogel, Chicago; Charles Selden and wife, Baltimore; J. W. Kates, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. H. Homan, Quincy, Ill.; Mrs. O. P. Miller, Salt Lake City.

For a half hour after the arrival of the party an informal reception was held in the office of the Monticello, during which time many of Norfolk's prominent citizens paid their respects to Mr. Edison and his associates.

The party is en route to the eighteenth annual convention of the Association of Railway Telegraph Superintendents, at Wilmington, N. C., on May 15th to 19th.

The itinerary as arranged provided for the assembling of the party in the parlors of the Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, on May 15th at 9 p. m. The meeting last night was of an informal nature. The itinerary is as follows:

Tuesday, May 16th—1 a. m., Leave Portsmouth for Wilmington; 1:05 p. m., Dinner at Henderson; 3 p. m., Arrive Wilmington; carriages to Orton House; 3:30 p. m., Supper at Orton House.

Wednesday, May 17th—9:30 a. m., Address of Welcome by Hon. A. M. Waddell, Mayor of Wilmington; 10 a. m., Opening session of convention; 10:30 a. m., A drive over the city, tendered to the ladies of the Association; 2:30 p. m., Second session of Convention; 4:30 p. m., Marconi's wireless telegraphy demonstrated and exhibited by Mr. William Mayer, Jr.; 8:30 p. m., A social in the parlors of the hotel, interspersed with music, etc.

Friday, May 19th—9:30 a. m., Fifth session of Convention (concluding); 2:15 p. m., Trolley car to Seacoast railroad, thence to Ocean View; 5:30 p. m., Leave Ocean View for Wilmington; 7:30 p. m., Leave Wilmington for Portsmouth (special train).

Saturday, May 20th—6:30 a. m., Arrive Portsmouth.

The Seaboard Air Line special train bearing the party to Wilmington will leave Portsmouth to-day at 10 a. m., stopping at Henderson, N. C., for dinner and reaching Wilmington at 7:50 p. m.

Besides the demonstration of the Marconi wireless system of telegraphy, there will be a discussion of electric force, a mysterious force of nature, believed to exist, but not yet captured by science and made subservient to man's use.

Another interesting subject will be the possible use of one wire for sending both telephone and telegraph messages, believed to be possible. Many telephone men will be in attendance. Much interest centers in the possible remarks of Mr. Edison.

WANTS ANOTHER LINE.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN NEGOTIATING FOR ANOTHER LINE.

It is stated that the Norfolk and Western Railway Company is negotiating for and has about obtained control of the Cincinnati, Portsmouth and Virginia railroad. This road would make an important link in the Norfolk and Western system and give the company an entrance into the city of Cincinnati, thus furnishing a new outlet for the coal traffic and at the same time open a competing line for the business of the West and the Atlantic Seaboard.

Bishop Randolph in Roanoke. Bishop Randolph preached at St. John's P. E. Church, Roanoke, at 11 a. m. Sunday, and confirmed a class. At 4:30 p. m. he preached a special sermon to Bayard Commandery, Knights Templar. At 8 o'clock he preached at Christ Church and confirmed a class. Each of these services were largely attended and the Bishop's discourses were highly commended for their beauty and power.

PEANUT DEAL FAILS

The Trust Neglects to Take Up Its Options.

A Promoter Secures an Extension of 'Options With a View to Organizing Another Combine to Control the Market.

That peanut trust which was formed in New York under the name of the American Edible Nut Company died before it actually came into existence, and its promoter, Charles E. W. Smith, of New York, was in Norfolk yesterday to secure the old options on the peanut plants here and in other portions of Virginia for the purpose of interesting other capitalists in the peanut business and forming another trust.

Just why the options on the plants were not taken advantage of and the trust actively put into existence, does not appear. A Mr. Treachville, who visited Virginia, is said to have had an option on every cleaning house in the State secured for the purpose of fostering the combine, but these options have expired several times. They were extended each time and the last extension was until the 15th instant.

It is now stated on what is considered good authority that the capitalists at first interested have backed out. Any way, the deal has not culminated, and the hopes of the original plan of combine being carried out now rest elsewhere.

It is entirely speculation to offer any reason for the failure of the proposed deal. One theory is that the capitalists interested decided that the prices asked by the owners of the plants were too high. The plants are located in Norfolk, Smithfield, Suffolk, Petersburg, Wakefield and Franklin. Their estimated values are said to be in the millions. They control the entire peanut business.

RENEWALS SECURED.

Mr. Smith is said to have secured the renewal or extension of all the options held before, and these, it is stated, covered the entire business. The extension is until June 1st. It is believed that by that date sufficient capital to launch the combine will have been secured. Some of the peanut men have no faith in the combine, since it has been postponed for so long a time.

Mr. K. B. Elliott and Captain J. L. Roper, representing big peanut interests in Norfolk, were seen last night and it was learned that the Norfolk houses all gave an extension of options.

Mr. Smith returned to New York yesterday afternoon, where he will work up the trust. The capital which was interested before has not all been withdrawn, it is understood, and Mr. Smith expects to bring the deal to a culmination in a few weeks.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

MEET AND DISCUSS CRANEY ISLAND QUARANTINE STATION.

The recently constituted Board of Control for the proposed Craney Island quarantine station met last night in the Treasurer's office, but as the full membership was not present the board was not organized.

The board consists of the Mayor, the president of the Board of Health and the president of the Finance Committee of Council on the part of Norfolk, and there are two members from Portsmouth and one from Berkeley. The members who were present last night were Mayor Johnston and Dr. Newhall, Norfolk, and Dr. J. S. Grace, of Portsmouth. Messrs. Camp, Hodges and Green, the old committee on securing a quarantine station, were also present. It is desired at an early date to have a meeting of the full board, and to have Dr. Wurtenbaker, surgeon of the Marine Hospital Service, present.

At this meeting it is understood that the formal tender of Craney Island will be made by Dr. Wurtenbaker on the part of the government.

The Board of Control will, it is presumed, have to comply with certain conditions before the island will be turned over to them. Dr. Wurtenbaker will fully explain these conditions. As soon as the island is acquired the board will formulate rules and regulations in compliance to the general regulations for the government of quarantine stations. No date has been set for the next meeting of the Board of Control.

POST OFFICE ROBBED.

SUCCESSFUL WORK OF CRACKSMEN IN WILLIAMSBURG.

A gentleman from Williamsburg yesterday informed the Virginian-Pilot that sometime Sunday night burglars forced an entrance to the postoffice of that town, which is located in the Peninsula Bank Building, blew open the large iron safe and carried away stamps, money, etc., to the value of at least $100. Among the missing mail matter are ten registered letters, the value of which are unknown.

The thieves entered a window on the last side of the building, then opened the front doors. They were evidently experienced in their line, as the job was a neat one.

A hole was drilled near the combination lock, a stick of dynamite inserted, and the rest was easy work. All the drawers and boxes containing money were carried away, and one was found on Nicholson street this morning minus the cash.

Postmaster Ware stated yesterday morning before our informant left that as he had not completed an inventory he could not tell exactly what the loss is.

A number of residents living several blocks away heard the explosion between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock. When the robbery was discovered it was feared the large burglar-proof safe in the Peninsula Bank had been tampered with, but it was not molested and apparently no attempt had been made to enter the portion of the building occupied by the bank.

A NEGRO SHOT

He Knocks Officer Sanderlin Down Three Times.

Foot Race and Desperate Struggle Between the Policeman and Charles Johnson, a Desperate Character—conquered Only by Powder and Lead.

Policeman William Sanderlin emptied his revolver in the direction of a desperate negro whom he arrested Sunday afternoon for drunkenness and using obscene language on Denby street. Two of the shots took effect, one ball passing entirely through the negro's thigh and the other one entering the small of the back.

The negro was Charles Johnson, who is regarded by the police as one of the worst characters in Norfolk. Policeman Sanderlin was passing down Denby street, near Baltimore, when he ran afoul of Johnson, who was evidently drinking and in a frame of mind to be quarrelsome. He was using obscene language, and Officer Sanderlin placed him under arrest. A tussle followed the attempt of the officer to take charge of the negro, and the policeman was knocked down.

Johnson, after knocking Officer Sanderlin to the pavement, ran up towards Princess Anne avenue, the officer chasing. A great crowd of negroes collected in the street, but did not assist in the chase. When the policeman came up with Johnson he was knocked down twice again by that burly specimen of the Afro-American. The negro continued to resist the officer in a violent struggle and the crowd of negroes only laughed at the officer's being knocked down. Finally Officer Sanderlin whipped out his revolver and discharged it five times. Even after being shot Johnson continued to resist arrest. He was carried to police headquarters in the patrol wagon, where a charge was entered against him of using obscene language and resisting an officer.

Later the wounded negro was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. It is stated that his wounds are painful, but he will recover speedily. He will be brought to the jail hospital within a day or two.

The officer is not blamed for shooting the negro, as it was to protect himself. Johnson is a desperate man, and some time ago he threw an axe at Officer West. He is said to have been one of the instigators of the Fourth Ward riot about three years ago.
